CHALLENGE

As the saying goes, Time is Money... and DK's office manager, Anita Hall, and her colleagues were becoming keenly aware that their outdated server and other in-house equipment – coupled with their admitted lack of IT 'know-how' - were adversely impacting the firm's ability to efficiently (and more profitably) provide quality counsel to clients.

Not only were DK colleagues spending valuable time troubleshooting IT issues (instead of serving clients), but little time-consuming hassles like the latencies of remotely connecting to their server began adding up.

SOLUTION

In mid-2015, Anita sought the counsel of The Solutions Team, who proposed their Virtual Office and Hosted Email solutions. After a strategic planning session, portions of DK's IT infrastructure were moved 'to the cloud' and the Solutions Team assumed their responsibility and oversight.

RESULTS

By empowering The Solutions Team to serve as DK's hosting provider, DK employees may now work remotely, from the courtroom or anywhere with Internet access, with unprecedented speed, security and ease.

For a few hundred dollars per month, DK associates now enjoy the benefits of Cloud-hosted Email, Microsoft Office and file sharing and storage applications - as well as data backup and disaster recovery. Everything they need to serve their clients.

Additionally, Anita has reassurance knowing she will never need to replace or upgrade her firm's local server hardware again.
